Dear Sir,

We Act for Clean Air in London (CAL).

Following on from:

- a) CAL's request for information held by the Greater London Authority (GLA) or the GLA group, "to know what the Mayor of London and the GLA is doing to influence directly or indirectly the future shape of the revised Air Quality Directive and produced since June 2010" on 13th May 2012;
- b) your refusal to provide information communicated to CAL on 3rd July 2012; and
- c) our letter to you asking for a full review, for the disapplication of exemptions where appropriate and for a proper application of public interest considerations weighed against any valid ground for exemption, which we sent on 24th July 2012;

we are extremely disappointed to not have had a response from you either explaining in greater detail the purported grounds for your refusal, specifically addressing our points on why the information should be made available, or providing the information to CAL which was now requested over four months ago.

We would like to inform you that, bearing in mind the 20 working day time limit under Reg. 5(2) was not complied with following CAL's initial request for information, the 40 working day time limit under Reg. 11(2) to respond to CAL's further representations we made on their behalf has now expired, expiring on or before 21st September 2012.

In our experience this request for information is not a relatively difficult one. We therefore ask that you fully reconsider your refusal to provide the information, paying specific attention to our original letter of 24th July 2012 and provide to CAL all the information originally requested on 13th May 2012. Unless we hear from you before the end of 28th September 2012 CAL will have no choice but to appeal to the Information Commissioner's Office.

Yours faithfully,
